

Jake Poinsett is the program manager at Trinity River Audubon Center. As program manager, his work focuses on environmental education for all ages, habitat management, and volunteer coordination. Before joining Audubon, he worked for Texas Parks and Wildlife, South Carolina Park Service, and the National Park Service. He is an avid birder and loves to share his passion with others. His love of birds began in his childhood when he saw his “spark bird”, a Downy Woodpecker. His mom, a fellow bird lover, would always have lots of suet feeders to bring them in.
